Announcing the DSpace Development Fund
Consider contributing to the DSpace Development Fund, which helps to support new feature development for upcoming releases!

Want to get involved?
Looking for ways to help out? Or, have ideas that you really want to see implemented in DSpace? See our guide on How to Contribute Ideas / Code / Documentation for some ways you can help make DSpace better for everyone!

If you are a developer and want to get your feet wet with DSpace, consider trying to tackle one of our unresolved, "good first issue" tickets. They should be approachable to anyone who is newer to DSpace, and it'd be a great way to give back!

Contributors to the DSpace Development Fund
DSpace is excited to share that since we launched the DSpace Development Fund, members of the worldwide DSpace community have contributed to supporting continued funded development for DSpace, the software of choice for academic, non-profit, and commercial organizations building open digital repositories. These contributions directly support software development of key features prioritized by the DSpace... Read more »

Statement by DSpace Governance
As the formal governing body of DSpace, the DSpace Steering Group and the DSpace Leadership Group express their support and solidarity with Ukraine and its people. We condemn Russia’s attack on Ukraine and are deeply concerned for everyone affected including our colleagues in Ukraine and Russia. We stand in solidarity with members of the DSpace... Read more »

Introducing the DSpace Development Fund (DDF)
DSpace is pleased to announce the launch of the DSpace Development Fund (DDF)! Two years ago, DSpace started a successful fundraising campaign to accelerate development for version 7.0, a major milestone in the history of DSpace. Largely through generous contributions from member institutions, we were able to invest more than $300,000 in targeted development to... Read more »
