Notes

1. Questions/Issues/Pull requests/Announcements
   - a. Expert Finder Webinar was a good time for VIVO, since it's one of the open-source project here and one that is vibrant with its development.
   - b. Nice to have dynamically populated different field, because now we have user-defined hard-coded internalization rules. Sigma had similar problem, they overcome it with they're own i18n files. Problem appears, due to collisions in languages. In a short-term: custom fields (that, probably, might/have already problem).
     Michel (had this problem): you can get rid of it by, probably, make translation inside VIVO (Spanish ontology). Problem could also be in a SPARQL query. What VIVO version they use, might be resolved in 1.12 (high chances only for French language).
     Brian: mentioned this issue https://github.com/vivo-project/VIVO/issues/3606
     Georgy: for multiple languages you need multiple modifiers or have fields based on the languages. Solution might be - extend modifiers.
   - c. Documentation improvement - small issues need further look at.
   - d. Try to improve your heap (make it bigger). Other solutions might appear after Dragan will try to reach this person.
   - e. Little typo with dot at the end of the float number now fixed.
   - f. Lots of information about technical side: how to return json in rest-api, everybody is welcomed to participate in a future testing.
2. You can register for next sprint already.
