Mailing Lists

Note: Membership to the "tech", "community", and "announcements" lists can be requested by going to the "archives" link.

- Tech list - fedora-tech@googlegroups.com
  This list is for technical discussions related to the Fedora Repository. Topics include those initiated by Fedora software committers and others who have questions related to the codebase, design, and implementation details.
  - List archives: https://groups.google.com/forum/#!forum/fedora-tech

- Community list - fedora-community@googlegroups.com
  This list is for community discussions related to the Fedora Repository and any relevant announcements for the Fedora Community. Topics include those initiated by Fedora Repository users and those interested in learning more about the Fedora project and platform. Community queries related to use, configuration, and experiences are found here.
  - List archives: https://groups.google.com/forum/#!forum/fedora-community

- Leadership list - fedora-leaders@googlegroups.com
  This list is for Fedora Leadership Group members. Fedora Leadership is comprised of representatives from institutions that have contributed to the top two tiers of Fedora Membership, have committed at least half a developer FTE to the project or have been elected to a membership level or community seat. The members of the Leadership team can be found here.

Slack

There is a Fedora Slack team that is used for discussion, questions, announcements, etc. Anyone can create a new channel within the Fedora Slack team once they have registered for an account.

Slack team: https://fedora-project.slack.com

Request your invitation to the Fedora Slack channel here: https://forms.gle/MjgCvNch7eaRoXRb8

A tutorial can be found at https://fedora-project.slack.com/getting-started. Slack has clients for Mac, PC, Linux, and mobile devices, and may be used via any web browser.

Meetings

The Fedora project has several regular, on-going meeting series. The following meetings all take place via zoom.

See the Fedora Community Calendar for details and zoom links to meetings.

- Weekly Technical Meeting - Every Thursday @ 11am Eastern
- Bi-monthly Governance Meeting
